Dr Sean Graham, author of American Snakes and Assistant Professor of Biology @ Sul Ross,
on this week's Between the Covers!

JOIN ZOOM WEBINAR
HERE

Sean Graham is an assistant professor of biology at Sul Ross State University. He is also the author of American Snakes.

With its superb photography and larger size, American Snakes looks like a coffee table book. Once you open it, however, you'll become absorbed by the science-fiction-esque inner workings of snakes and their interactions with humans and animals alike.

Join us for this online event - it's rumored there will be real snakes!

You are invited to a Zoom webinar.

When: September 9, 2020 05:30 PM Central Time (US and Canada)

Topic: Between the Covers with Dr Sean Graham, vertebrate biologist and Assistant Professor of Biology at Sul Ross University
